This Teacher's manual contains the drill books for all six cycles of Classical Sunday School, along with a guide for teaching the curriculum. At Classical Sunday School, we believe: 1. The Bible is a great book. We really mean that. It's filled with heroes, villains, seductresses, world empires, grandeur, grossness, plot twists and an ending that will blow you away. 2. Kids would love to learn what's in the Bible. They would love it so much, that they'd actually put effort into mastering it, if anybody would respect them enough to teach them. 3. The proven Classical Method is the best way to teach kids the amazing content of the Bible. A little about the Classical Method: The Classical Method divides a child's learning adventure into three stages: grammar, dialectic, and rhetoric, referred to collectively as the Trivium. During the grammar (or data) stage, a child's mind is like a thirsty sponge, absorbing information wherever it can. Kids in this stage memorize easily and are insatiably curious. In the dialectic state, a child begins to synthesize the data he's accumulated, connecting the dots and trying to understand how all of his stored information fits together. In the rhetoric stage, a young person begins to use his data-laden framework of the world to try to persuade and influence. The Classical Method of education has been the gold standard for millennia, producing the great minds of the Western intellectual tradition. As modern educators have recoiled from the rigors of the Classical Method, modern students have suffered. Clearly, this style of education is built on a foundation of data. Names, dates, locations, lists, descriptions. The more data a mind stores, the more dots it can connect, the more persuasive it can become. The broader the base, the taller the building. This curriculum is designed for use in the grammar stage-typically with kids 4-11 or 12 years old. It contains data, and lots of it. There are maps, timelines, genealogies, memory passages, lists of kings and covenants and more. A Sunday School teacher, armed with this book and a Bible, can prepare his students to become biblically literate. But please remember: we present all this information not to puff up, or to show off. The vast amount of data is introduced so that when our kids reach the rhetoric stage, their sweet minds will have information to massage and assemble. If a kid reaches the rhetoric stage, where his mind is longing to put pieces together to make sense of the world, and he finds that he's missing lots of pieces, he gets frustrated. And surly. And rude. We don't want that, now do we? Owning a broad base of data equips a child for the daunting task of making sense of the world, and eventually making his mark in it. Such knowledge also prevents a young person from falling prey to harmful fads and destructive ideologies. It's not so easy to dupe a kid who is armed with facts. The songs and other resources found on the website might prove helpful in mastering the material. Excerpt from One Year of Sunday School Lessons for Young Children: A Manual for Teachers and Parents, Presenting a Series of Sunday School Lessons Selected, Arranged, and Adapted for the Use of the Youngest Classes Centuries ago a great philosopher wrote: "When I was a child, I understood as a child." But it was left for a later age, for Pestalozzi and Froebel, for the psychologists of our own day, to discover how the child "understood." Upon this discovery is being builded a new education. The old axiom, "two bodies cannot occupy the same space at the same time," is true in the physical world but in the mental world, she who is to touch the life of a child must put herself in his place - must see from his point of view. For the time her mode of thinking, the mode of the mature mind, must be set aside. She is to think along the same channel with the mind of the child, whose life can be measured in mouths - she is to understand as a child. Linguists tell us they think in a foreign language. The task of the linguist is precisely the task of the teacher. She must study the child's language until she can think in it. In other words, she must discover his mode of thought. Have you ever been reminded how far away your thought was from the child's? A father said to his four-year-old daughter: "I am going to New York tomorrow, and then I am going across the big ocean to Europe." She immediately asked: "Shall you drive old Doll?" The father was thinking ill his world; the child in her own. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
